

Christian Success Over Job

That there are no atheists in a Christian college has appeared to be the opinion of more than one convocation speaker at Wartburg college during the past few years. Though this may be true, it is equally true that far from all the inhabitants of such a college are true Christians. This has been proved throughout the years of the existence of Wartburg, as well as that of other Christian colleges in this country; it has been proved by conduct and by the eventual results in the lives of some members of the Wartburg family.

According to the annual college catalog, the first specific aim of Wartburg college is "to foster a Christian philosophy of life centering in a vital personal faith and reflected in personality traits, character and conduct." In other words, if a student earns a degree from Wartburg after spending four years without accepting Christ as a personal guide through life, the college—including everyone who helps to make the college what it is—has failed in one of its primary objectives.

During the past week the Rev. Marcus C. Rieke and Mrs. Julius Bodensiek have been pointing out, through their Religious Emphasis week lectures, that all must hear the call of Christ, come to Him, follow Him and witness of Him. The climax to all these talks will come tomorrow morning when Mr. Rieke presents the Communion sermon, "Jesus Calls You to Love Him." The challenge given by Mr. Rieke and Mrs. Bodensiek is not given merely to fulfill the requirements of an annual week in the college calendar; it is given as a direct challenge to better present and future conditions in the lives of the citizens of Wartburg.

The first week in January is usually considered the time for resolutions and a renewal of faith. Cannot the first week in February also serve as a time to accept the challenge of Christ's call to all of us? Is not daily renewal and daily spiritual revitalization as necessary as daily meals or sleep? Are not you, who have been privileged to hear the words of Christ's commandments, personally responsible for the success of Wartburg college as a Christian institution?

The answers are a chorus of "Yes, yes, yes." But how can we achieve success in the process of vitalization and revitalization of our faith and Christian living? We can listen to Christ's words; we can come to Him through prayer and worship; we can follow Him in service; we can witness of Him in our dormitories, homes and classrooms.

As Mr. Rieke said Wednesday morning, "We must live the Jesus way." As John said, "By this we may be sure that we are in him."

"He who says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked."

Russia Talks Peace

The most important international development of the last week has undoubtedly been Generalissimo Stalin's offer to "talk peace" with President Truman. For the first time since the overthrow of the Benes government in Czechoslovakia and the beginning of the Berlin blockade, the Russian Politburo seems intent on a policy of reconciliation with the United States. The enormous possible consequences of such a move justify a close examination of the situation.

The question which immediately comes to everyone's mind is whether or not the new peace offensive is sincere. The answer to the question can be formulated only as a theory, since there is no possible proof for the sincerity of any statement from the Kremlin. Several United States news-commentators, among them Drew Pearson and H. V. Kaltenborn, have come to a rather plausible conclusion. According to them, Stalin for a while past year had lost control of the Politburo due to the activities of one of Russia's topmost leaders in foreign affairs—Zhdanov. When Zhdanov died, accidentally or violently, Stalin regained the majority and originated the present policy. Since there is no positive proof for this conclusion, your columnist can give it here only for what it is worth. But if it should be true, then the natural conclusion is that Stalin is sincere in his efforts to come to an understanding with this country.

On the other hand, Stalin is much too shrewd a man to make such a move without expecting to gain something from it. Exactly what the advantage for Russia will be is difficult to say, but one can again formulate a theory.

Although Stalin may be sincere in his efforts to set on friendly terms with this country today, it does not mean that he is sincere tomorrow. The communist ideal is incompatible with peace. The natural element in which it thrives is revolution. Therefore, unless Stalin is given up the idea of world domination, the current peace offensive is likely to be nothing more than a time-saver. Russia is stalling the game, because she has found out that the United States does not believe Russia needs more time to prepare for a war, and in the meantime the advantageous thing for her to do is to conclude an alliance with the United States, which we will never refuse and which she can call off any time she pleases. In other words, Stalin is probably sincere in his efforts, but only as long as he deems it necessary.

Married Senior

Busy Chi Rho Head

Among Wartburg's married seniors is Mel Bergin from Thiensville, Wis. Being an industrious pre-thee, head of Chi Rho and married is indeed a full time job!

Cedarburg High was the scene of Mel's graduation, and then he left Thiensville to join the Navy. This took up three and one-half years of his life as he was a member of a crew in a naval aviation squadron.

Mel Bergin

The inclination to become a minister came to Mel when he was in service, when he began to settle down and become serious, he says. The determining factor was when he talked to his pastor and went to training school. His mind was made up—he would be a minister! And a minister he is going to be.

Future At Sem.

Future plans include life at the Seminary and then work as a parish minister. Mel explained that he is intensely interested in Chinese mission work, but because that is not accessible, he plans to devote youth work in his parish.

While at Wartburg Mel has been active in Student Senate, Artist Series and has been elected to Who's Who. Right now he is the busy president of Chi Rho, pre-theological society.

"I am pleased with the activities Chi Rho has carried on; still we have not accomplished all that should be done. Chi Rho should be made a living thing to a pre-thee—but just a once-a-month affair. There is a final cooperation in Chi Rho—more so this year, everyone is doing his share."

Hobby Sheet Metal

Mel's hobby is not only a special interest, but a sort of livelihood. He does work in sheet metal—but it is not work, he explains. It is fun! This he has been doing ever since he knew what sheet metal was! Also, he is interested in the religious life on campus.

Favorite pastime, however, is home life with his wife "Mitzie." Mitzie, the former Mildred Biebert, was a student here from 1946 to 1948. Watching sports with his wife comes next on Mel's list of favorites.

"Wartburg becomes a part of you. It lives up to all I expected, and the good has been even overshadowed the bad. The highlight of the year to me, is Religious Emphasis week."

It didn't take Mel long to think of that—it was spontaneous.

"Anywhere," Mel states, "that I can fit into the ministry of the Kingdom is my goal."

Knight Rally Spills Beavers 55-48

By Adam Meldinger

Wartburg Knights turned the tide on the Buena Vista Beavers here last night 55-48 in a thrilling Iowa league game that saw the Black and Orange overcome a 26-20 half-time deficit and come on to stage an exciting comeback.

It would be difficult to single out one player and say he was the outstanding star of the evening, for the Knights all turned in brilliant performances.

Center Magnificent.
Center Paul Olson played another magnificent game, rebounding and scrapping very well and leading the Knights with 13 points.

Wartburg's rapiers came out on the long end of a 16-14 wrestling match at St. Ambrose college, Davenport, last evening. Today Thursday is scheduled to be the Knight victim.

points. Paul Bruns and "Butch" Sauerby also turned in commendable performances as they lit for 11 points apiece.

Lloyd Spitz, Spier played a hard game at guard, hitting for nine tallies and doing a great job of rebounding off the defensive board.

Coach Ax Bundgaard's ace-in-the-hole was Fritz (Fritz) Steinhauer, recently from the Squires. "Fritz" came in when Jim Keller was injured and the Knights showed sophomore from Madison, Wis., kept the Knights ahead by coming through with several key baskets.

Knights Cold.
Cold as usual in starting out, it took the Knights five minutes before Olson scored for the first time. The Knights had tough luck on their shots and it appeared as if this would be just another back game. Big Vern Rahl, who bagged 12 points for the invading Beavers, kept them ahead by hitting 12 points from the key hole in the first half.

Buena Vista opened the second half by plunking in four straight free throws, and pulled away 30-21. Spier and Steinhauer hit from the side to narrow the margin 33-28. The enemy lead continued to melt as Spier hit another, sandwiched between gift tosses by Olson and Steinhauer. Bruns hit two charity tosses and pumped in a two-pointer to put the Knights ahead 36-25.

Johnny Naughton slammed a long shot through the meshes to put the Beavers back in the lead, but Sauerby came back with two quick buckets; Olson connected for another, and the Knights led 42-37.

Bruns Drops Swisher.
Bruns dropped in a long shot, Olson added another and Steinhauer hit a left handed hook shot. The Beavers took time out with five minutes remaining.

Buena Vista came roaring back with two buckets by Naughton, a tip-in by Jerry Speck, and a free toss by Bob Lee to close the gap 46-46. Wartburg. The Knights added a couple of more baskets and then played a free way to ice the game.

Wartburg continues its home stand next week with the Black and Orange meet Iowa Wesleyan on Monday and Upper Iowa on Friday. The law of averages seems to be catching up with the Knights, who lost so many heart-breakers on the road. If this is the case, they are going to be mighty tough to beat.

Knights Avenge Loss, Dump Parsons 49-41

By Adam Meldinger

Wartburg Knights avenged an overtime loss to Parsons earlier this season by spilling the Wildcats here Wednesday night 49-41 in an Iowa conference tilt.

A couple of Paulk were played for the Knights as Paul Bruns turned in a brilliant performance at guard, hitting the hoop for 20 points. Butsy Paul Olson played great game, especially on defense, and he accounted for 11 markers.

"Dutch" Sauerby played a stellar floor game as the "Dutch" held the sharpshooting wildcat ace, Bud Bacus, to a mere two free throws before fouling out.

Wartburg looked very good at times and showed that it was a better team than the record shows. The Knights went out to a couple of scoring spurges, and at one time were ahead 21 points, 37-16.

Wartburg broke the scoring ice when Olson hit for a free throw. The Knights went on to make the count 12-11, and the Black and Orange were never headed from that point on.

Bruns Dumps Four.
Speedy Bruns dumped in four quick buckets to stun the Kelly Greens and led the Knights to a 24-16 lead at halftime. Wartburg kept shoving on the coal and really put on the gas after the intermission. With Bruns still on the rampage, the Knights scored 13 points in four minutes while Parsons could get only one free throw.

At this point, Wartburg began to cool off, and the Wildcats, sparked by Paul Dupierre, began slowly to creep up, gnawing away at the lead the Knights had built up and closing the gap to 41-31. A couple of long by Bacus led the Knights with only eight points to spare, 44-36. Olson loomed in two baskets and Bruns hit a free throw for insurance.

Ivan Helo was high scorer for Parsons with 11 points.

Knights Lose Game.
Knights lost a conference game Saturday night to the Dubuque University Spartans 50-35 at Dubuque.

Lloyd (Spitz) Spier, Wartburg's lanky, free-faced guard, led a brilliant job of guarding on Jerry Borg, one of the leading scorers in the conference. Spier blanketed the blond-headed Borg, a consistently high scorer, and held him to a mere five points.

Dubuque, however, with well-balanced scoring punch put the

'Spitz' Spier Named Player Of Week

Lloyd (Spitz) Spier has been named the player of the week by the "W" Club, the Wartburg letterman club, for this week.

Spier was awarded the honor for his outstanding job of guarding Dubuque university's star forward, Jerry Borg, last Saturday.

A Dubuque newspaper called "Spitz" a "peaky" "skinny" guard who ruined Borg's 19-point average by holding the ace to a measly five points.

Spier is a lanky, free-faced, 6-foot, 160-pounder who has been a 2-inch junior, playing his second year on the varsity. After a year of seasoning with the "W" squad, the former Tripoli high school star was moved up last year, and he turned in a good year at forward.

In 17 games, he scored 44 field goals and 35 free throws to make him the team's second highest scorer with 123 points per game.

This year, Spier has been one of the mainstays of the Knights and is turning in some good performances both on defense and on offense.

from Engel's Angle

Wartburg dropped a 50-35 basketball game to Dubuque last Saturday night, but the defensive play of Lloyd Spier was the outstanding feature of the game. Jerry Borg, Dubuque's high-scoring forward, was among the leading conference scorers last season, and until the game against the Knights, he had racked up an average of 19 points per contest. But Spier's defense against Borg had held him to five points. The last time out against Punn, Borg had pocketed 33 points.

One of the main reasons for the slow start of Dubuque this season may have been the loss of Jim Kremer. Kremer, a guard, was an outstanding defensive man and rebounder, but he contacted an ailment similar to that which plagued Lou Gehrig during the last few years of his life. Kremer's legs are partially paralyzed and he attended the game with the aid of a cane.

"Nellie" Nelson, head football and wrestling coach for the Knights, must have been a better-than-average football player himself during college days. "Buck" Starbuck, who has been turning out in the aggregations at Iowa State Teachers college for many years, was asked to pick an all-star team from among the boys who had played under him at this school. Nelson was named by Starbuck as his first-string center.

Weather forced cancellation of what should have been one of the best wrestling meets of the season here. Colorado university, one of the Big Seven schools, could not get to Waverly for the scheduled meet Saturday afternoon. They did get through the drifts in time to meet Grinnell Saturday night and defeated the Iowa school, 30-0. Monday evening they were defeated by Iowa State, 28-6.

Paul Bruns, Mason City's contribution to the Wartburg athletic team, was a subcommittee of the "Twins." The twins were members of Northwestern's Rose Bowl team which defeated California on New Year's day.

"Fats" started in the line for Northwestern while "Howie" played in the backfield on defense. He intercepted two passes and returned them to bait California drivers.

Home Children Want 'Brothers, Sisters'

By Jean Becker

"Will you tell my 'big sister' to come up and see me?" This is the persistent request of 24 girls at the Lutheran Children's Home, while 32 boys are equally eager to see their "big brothers."

Children Assisted

At the beginning of each school year Wartburg college students who so desire are assigned a "little brother" or "sister" at the Home. Prior to this year only lists of names were considered in making the choices. Because of numerous difficulties in using this method, a new system was begun last fall.

John Bowman, Wartburg junior and chairman of this Lutheran student association project, is assisted in carrying on this work by Barbara DeYoung and Bert Clark, both sophomores. Together, they considered each child individually and selected the Wartburg boys they thought was best suited to that particular child. In other words, such items as personalities and mutual interests were kept in mind.

Purpose of this organization, which was started about eight years ago, is to assist the religious training of the children. Many of these children have had little, if any, religious training previous to the time they came to the Home.

Home Through

The Home is doing a thorough work in teaching the children in spiritual things, but no staff member can take as much personal interest in each child as a big brother or sister can. Not only are the children benefited, but the students of this Christian college are given an opportunity for service.

Staff members, as well as the children, have added much to the success of this program by their cooperation and suggestions. Students have been asked to visit the children on Saturday or Sunday afternoon, at least once every three weeks. Frequent visits are greatly encouraged. Visits to the Children's Home are not limited to "big brothers" and "sisters," but all students and faculty are welcome.

Students May Participate

Any students interested in serving as "big brothers" or "sisters," especially members of the Lutheran Student association and social work majors, are urged to contact the chairman of this project. New children are constantly arriving at the Home, and a new "big brother" or "sister" must be chosen.

McClenaghan To Be Convo Speaker Tuesday Morning

Dr. Walter McClenaghan, secretary of peace education for the Des Moines regional office of the American Friends Service committee, will be the speaker at convocation next Tuesday morning, according to the Rev. Edwin Schick, college chaplain.

Graduate of the University of Denver, Dr. McClenaghan holds his bachelor of divinity and doctor of theology degrees from Iliff School of Theology in Denver. From 1937 to 1946 he was a member of the peace committee of the Southern California-Arizona conference of the Methodist church.

In 1947 Dr. McClenaghan visited the United Nations and attended the Pacific regional conference on UNESCO as a delegate of the Methodist church.

Dr. McClenaghan will be available Tuesday afternoon for conferences, according to Mr. Schick.

KDK Will Meet, Show Projector

Meeting in chapel hall at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 9, will be the newly organized Kappa Delta Kappa, formerly known as the Future Teachers association.

Demonstration on the handling and operation of a motion picture projector will be given by Bell and Howe of Mason City. All individuals will be allowed to operate the projector, according to Dale Kette, chairman of the program committee. A short movie of general interest will also be shown. Preceding the demonstration, the regular business meeting will be held.

Scientists To Tour

Tour through the Waverly power plant conducted by the city engineer will be the highlight of the Science club meeting Tuesday, Feb. 8, according to club officers.

Members are asked to meet at 7:30 p.m. in the chemistry lecture room, where a short business meeting will precede the excursion.

Ecumenical Move Main LSA Topic

Ecumenical, or world-wide, church movements will be the main topic to be discussed at the Lutheran Student association meeting Sunday evening at 5 p.m. in the cafeteria.

Leading the discussion will be Anna Marie Walther, junior, and Bob Wessel, a student at Iowa State Teachers college, Cedar Falls. Both recently attended the first ecumenical student conference at the University of Kansas.

Talent Wanted In Junior Class

Talent

That is what the junior class wants for its all-school talent show to be presented in the gymnasium April 9, according to Marvin Goetz, chairman of the committee in charge.

The chairman urged all people interested in presenting non-classical music, comedy acts, imitations or readings at the talent show to contact Dr. Edwin Llenahan, Miss Esther Little, Anna Marie Walther, Bill Eiedermann or Goetz himself.

Judging for the spring show will be based on applause, according to the chairman.

'Liberalism' Topic

Discussion of the development of the classical concept of "liberalism" will be featured by William Wubben, economics instructor, at the next meeting of the Political Science Discussion club. This meeting will be held Wednesday, Feb. 9, at 7:30 p.m. in room 14A, according to Hartland Schmidt, chairman of the organization.
